OUR REDDING LETTER

Newsy Narratives Nicely Noticed

Coons Confiscate Corn

Lester O. Peck Purchases Sherman Property and Transfers It to Commodore Lutgen — Election Results.

Redding, Oct. 7.—At Monday's election, on a light vote, the Democrats elected Charles Sanford, their candidate for first selectman. The other two members of the board are E. A. Pinkney, his opponent, and Aaron H. Sanford, also Republican. Charles Sanford had 115 votes to 110 for Mr. Pinkney. John N. Nickerson was re-elected town clerk, over J. Robert Beecher by a majority of 17. No declaration was announced of the vote for assessors because Lloyd Blackman, the moderator, wished to take legal advice before deciding the question raised by the irregularity of the Republican ticket in respect to this office. Instead of naming three candidates and designating the term of each, as a new statute requires the Republicans named but two and left unspecified the period of their tenure to serve whereas the Democratic ticket complied with the law in these particulars. Mr. Blackman will announce his decision on Saturday and it will most probably be in favor of Michael Connerly, J. L. Blackman and Mr. Joseph Sullivan, the Democratic nominees, as two voters who have been consulted on the matter expressed the opinion that the defect in the Republican ticket is a fatal one as regards assessors. With the loss of first selectman and assessors the Republican ticket went out by a narrow margin. The members of the new town school committee are D. S. Sanford, Michael Connerly, W. C. Sanford and Eugene Adams, Democrats, and E. A. Pinkney, Henry S. Osborn, W. E. Hazen, Arthur J. Ford and C. Barnett, Republicans. At the business meeting it was voted that next year's school board should consist of six members, by which action the term of all the members of the present board is limited to one year.

Proceedings of the business meeting were long and wavy, the main subject of discussion being the adjustment of school property values with reference to the Umpawaug district which alone has stood out from the plan of voting to convey its property to the town without conditions. The assessors submitted a report showing that Umpawaug's building had an excess value of something over $400 which would give to the owners of property in the district an abatement of about 6.24 mills on the taxes next due. They further reported that no site value attached to the Umpawaug property by reason of the fact that the building stands on the highway and presented an opinion from Attorney C. S. Canfield to the effect that under these circumstances the abatement indicated by the figures in the report and the third provided for a general assessment by school district and an equalization applying to the entire town after the taxpayer is taxed by the law. The latter proposition was the one finally adopted. During the debate one resident of Umpawaug expressed the belief that the grounds occupied by the building was given the district by its then owner, whom he named, about 75 years ago. Another resident corrected him, saying that the gift came from another donor over 100 years ago. A search of the records of the town failed to disclose any transaction of such a nature, and hence the question in its various bearings is likely to prove a knotty problem for the incoming board of assessors inasmuch as the tax payers of the other districts will naturally object to the property owners of Umpawaug receiving a benefit to which they are not legally entitled.

Favorable action was taken by the meeting on the proposition that the present arrangement, which gave Georgetown's half district forms a part of Wilton district No. 10 be continued. Were the district to be now disrupted it might be under the provisions of the new school law the Redding section of it would lose the benefits of the $15,000 trust fund bequeathed it by the late Edwin Gilbert, the income from which becomes available upon the death of the testator's widow. It is designed to ask from the next legislature the passage of a law which will insure a continuation of its present arrangements. The Georgetown district now has about 90 per cent of the district's taxable property and furnishes about half the pupils whose tuition is obtained at a less cost per capita than the children in the other districts of the town.

For schools the meeting voted an appropriation of $4,000, for roads and bridges $3,500, and for State roads $20,000. The salary of the tax collector was increased to $150 from $100 and his bond fixed at $10,000. A motion that he be bonded with security company at the town's expense was voted down. The usual tax rate of 15 mills was voted. The incoming board of selectmen were directed to take measures necessary to make the town vault damp proof and when this is done to the satisfaction of the State commissioner of records and the land records and papers are to be kept in the vault. Joseph Hill was chairman of the meeting.

After long negotiations the Ethel Sherman property at the upper end of Sunset Hill was purchased last week by L. O. Peck. He has immediately conveyed to Walter Lutgen, with the former Murray place on the south the Sherman land will be utilized by Commodore Lutgen as the site for a residence for his daughter and only child, Mrs. Florence Wooten. She now resides in New Jersey and has two children. Plans for the house have been prepared and building operations will begin as soon as the contracts are let. The first story is to be of concrete stucco and the second story of shingles. The cost will be from $10,000 to $15,000 and it is expected that the building will be completed or nearly so by spring.

Construction work on the new Jump Hill road is more than half completed. It has been assumed that on account of the low figure at which Contractor E. P. Mills took the job he would be a considerable loser but he now says that he will get his money out and something over although his price was several thousands under the next bidder and $10,000 under the highest.

On Sunday last the auto of L. O. Peck, which had as occupants at the time his driver and Herbert Arnold, went safely down the hill leading westward from the residence of John Wheeler in Easton but at the bottom some disarrangement of the mechanism caused the machine to leave the road and plunge into the bushes at its side. There it struck a stone or some other obstruction with such force that Arnold was thrown out and deposited in a brook. He escaped with only a wetting and the machine received no particular damage.

SPANISH ARMY OF 300,000 MEN

Latest Scheme Presented to King Alfonso by Advisers to Crush Rebellion.

BOLDLY DEFYING SULTAN

(Special from United Press.)

Madrid, (Via Hendaeye) Oct. 7.—A Spanish army of 150,000 men in Morocco with 150,000 reserves in readiness for the field at the slightest warning, is the scheme today presented for the consideration of King Alfonso by the leading military authorities and members of the cabinet. Leading generals and the state officials held a conference last night which lasted until nearly daybreak today and evolved this as the best available means of coping with the situation which confronts the nation.

Every feature of the Moroccan war was considered as well as the widespread dissatisfaction in the Spanish cities. In addition to the causes of worry the leaders are now face to face with the probability of war with Sultan Mulai. Mulai is looked to for assistance in preventing the expulsion of the last civilized country from Morocco. The leaders are suspicious of the positions of France and Germany in the situation. Although France, it is believed will be forced to keep her hands off in the hope that her alien subjects will remain quiet. The Kaiser is thought to be altogether too close to Mulai. The situation in the interior continues to grow worse and the civil authorities are with difficulty keeping the disaffection from becoming rebellion. Little is to be expected of the army, which is almost entirely in sympathy with the populace.
